

Can we talk about Kim Kardashian and her 72 day marriage? Really? Good thing we don't let the gays get married cause they would really fuck up the perfect image of marriage that we have. What the fuck is wrong with people? With the exception of ACTUAL porn stars, has anyone gotten famous off a sex tape? (yes, I know Paris eventually...but Kim came first...literally. Literally.)

Fuck Kim Kardashian.

Wanna chat a little about Lindsay Lohan? First, she agrees to appear in Playboy for less than a million dollars. I know, I know...it's still a nice paycheck but come on...couple of years ago she coulda got a couple of million. I view her appearing in Playboy for under a million as a sorry attempt at staying relevant. How fucking sad is that? Still going to get the issue, but so so sad.

Not only that, but what the hell is wrong with this chick? She doesn't have a job. All she does is party and she could not get herself out of fucking bed and do her community service? COME ON! Just do it. You're not doing anything else! Come on! Just show up and DO IT! Fuck! That's fine...she's going back to jail for 30 days. Hope some big ass prison bitch takes her over to the dark side. Who am I kidding? With all the overcrowding in this town? She'll be out in minutes.

Fuck Lindsay Lohan.

Can Justin Bieber just go away? Show of hands...how many people would be cool with Justin Bieber just going away? Yeah, seein' a lot of hands. Some dumbass fan is accusing him of knocking her up.

Okay...tangent time...ladies...can we please stop with the "it's your baby" routine? Come on! Especially with the celebrities. Have you actually seen pictures of Billie Jean? That shit be nasty.

Look, Bieber is a musician. A hormonal one at that. This is what they do. They bang chicks on the road. This is how it has happened since the dawn of music. Think Beethoven wasn't banging groupies in the back of his horse and buggy? You think the Pied Piper was really about rats? Ha!

It's not about love. Just be happy you got them for a hot minute. Enjoy your Bieber-dick and move on with your life. It's okay. Why you gotta go right to pregnancy?

Even more reason why Bieber should just go away.

And while you're at it...fucking take those Twilight pieces of shit with you. Again, ladies...stop camping out for this shit. They are horrible actors people. Stop encouraging them to be in movies. Seriously. Stop. If I was making a movie where I needed an actor to stand there and look stupid...totally would cast Kristen Stewart. She's totally got that down.

And while we're on Twilight...stop buying the merchandise ladies. Wearing a Twilight T-shirt is the female equivalent to the Star Trek uniform. I mean you do want to have some sex in your life at some point, right? Let me help ya out then. Burn that shit up. You'll thank me for it.

Alright, enough about that shit. Sorry, was totally reading entertainment news before I started writing my article. Had some things to say apparently.

No news on the script front. I have been feeling so fucking unmotivated to write. Even sitting here now writing this is bugging the hell out of me. I'm eventually going to have to force myself to sit down and just do it, but I've been lacking in the motivation department lately. Which is weird because I have so many motivators in my life. Hmmm. I'm sure I'm not the only one out there that gets like that.

I'll keep you posted.

Movin' on...

It absolutely amazes me how many people are so unaware of the shit that they do. I see it every day. Denial. Like, serious denial.

"What? I'm not like that!"

"I didn't say that? When did I say that?"

"I don't do the same things my mother did!"

Yeah ya do. Yes...you said that and yeah...you are EXACTLY like that.

I read a logline yesterday about a rockstar who becomes a vigilante poet who writes poem songs for every person that he kills.

The best part is...wait for it...

The writer of the logline made the claim that this was, and I quote, "highly marketable."

Really?

Fucking really?

Do you think FOX is going to try and get their vigilante poet movie out before Warner Bros. does?

Are you thinking Will Smith's agent has been desperately searching for a vigilante poet script because Will wants to meld his music career with his love for Batman?

Ya think tweens are going to camp...well, they do for Twilight...so fucking bad example because they probably will.

Do you even know what the word MARKETABLE means? I don't think you do.

Stop it people. Please. I'm asking nicely. It's not funny anymore.

And where are these people's friends? Stop being nice to these people. Friends don't let friends pitch shitty material. So when they give you this shit to read do not go back to them with "no that's awesome dude! I loved it. You're totally talented. I was just telling Fred the other day 'we need more vigilante poet movies.'"

Sigh.

One last thing... which I know seems a little hypocritical given my approach every week, but it still needs to be said. If you work in this town you are going to end up working with and mostly for, people who are absolute pricks. I mean just really horrible people. They will yell at you. Treat you like shit and then want you to do things for them.

A lot of that comes from just people bending over backwards for them for so long that they're just used to it.

Now. You have two ways to go here...you can take it. Or you can fire back.

As most of you imagine, I'm typically the kind of person that fires back. Sarcasm and the ability to use it properly, comes in handy quite a bit.

I just received an email from a producer that said:

"But you do acknowledge that I was right?????????Your arrogance and stubbornness is sometime unbearable!"

Frankly I'm amazed they only used one exclamation point at the end.

I simply wrote back:

"Thanks. Love the motivational speech. ;)"

Eh...this town makes me smile.

Till next week...
